If only the daffodils randomly blooming could capture the imagination long enough to suspend the muddy mood with their beckoning faces

They would call out See me, Choose me, Hold me and bring a glimmer of happiness that widens the world

Daffodowndilly

*She wore her yellow sun-bonnet, She wore her greenest gown;
She turned to the south wind
And curtsied up and down.*

*She turned to the sunlight
And shook her yellow head,
And whispered to her neighbor:*

"Winter is dead." ...A.A. Milne
