

Back to Basics Using the Color Wheel/Blending Colors

"It is important for a beginner to start simply, and to learn to mix their own colors, which is a pleasure and not a difficult task." ... Sarah Simblet, Botany for the Artist

Start the year off revisiting the color wheel and working with a limited palette of yellow, red, and blue.

- ❖ Create a small circle with your, your yellow that leans orange (107), your red that leans purple (126), and your blue that leans green (110).
- ❖ Do another circle with the yellow that leans green, (205), the red that leans orange (121) and the blue that leans purple (120).
- ❖ Mix two of your colors to create a secondary color
- ❖ Add the complement and create a brown.

Take your time mixing and blending.

"Consider everything an experiment." ... Corita Kent
